Diego A. Canales

Department of Economics, Tecnológico de Monterrey, Campus Puebla diego.canales@tec.mx · diegoacanales.github.io linkedin.com/in/diego-canales · ORCID 0009-0007-7436-7736

Academic Positions

Assistant Professor of Economics June 2026 – Present
Tecnológico de Monterrey, Campus Puebla

Full-time Professor of Economics July 2022 – June 2026
Tecnológico de Monterrey, Campus Puebla

Teaching Associate/Fellow September 2019 – August 2022
University of Nottingham, School of Economics

UG/PG Dissertation Supervisor October 2019 – August 2022
University of Nottingham, School of Economics

Graduate Teaching Assistant October 2016 – August 2019
University of Nottingham, School of Economics and Business School

Mathematics Lecturer August 2015 – December 2015
University of Texas at El Paso, Mathematics Department

Education

PhD in Economics 2021
University of Nottingham, School of Economics, United Kingdom

M.Sc. in Mathematics 2014
University of Texas at El Paso

M.A. in Economics 2014
Universidad Autónoma de Ciudad Juárez

B.A. in International Business 2013
Tecnológico de Monterrey, Campus Ciudad Juárez

B.Sc. in Applied Mathematics 2011
University of Texas at El Paso

Research Fields

Primary: Political Economy, Game Theory, Electoral Competition
Secondary: Applied Microeconomics, Economic History

Publications

1. Canales, D.A. (2025). "A Spatial Model with k-winners." Games, 16(1), 6. doi:10.3390/g16010006

Working Papers & Under Review

1. "Electoral Competition and the Design of Tax and Spending Policies in Sequential Elections."
2. "The Case of American Presidential Primaries: A Model of Sequential Primary Elections."

3. "Subnational Heterogeneity in Maternal Employment Recovery from Child Penalties: Descriptive Evidence from Mexico."
4. "Within-Person Drivers of BMI Change in Aging Mexico."
5. "Treaty Citizens and Immigrants: Intergenerational Mobility Among Mexican-Origin Populations in the American Southwest, 1850–1940."
6. Canales, D.A. and Enríquez, M. "How Much Economic Dynamics Does a Business Register See? Auditing Mexico's DENUE, with an Application to the 2017 Puebla–Morelos Earthquake." In preparation for Stata Journal.
7. Canales, D.A. and Enríquez, M. "Damage or Dollars? Reconstruction Booms After the 2017 Puebla–Morelos Earthquake." In preparation for Economics of Disasters and Climate Change.

Presentations & Posters

- Enríquez, M. and Canales, D.A. "Resilience for Whom? Pre-Disaster Economic Diversity and Inequalities in Post-Disaster Service Access After Mexico's 2017 Earthquake." 22nd International Conference on Urban Health (ICUH), Mexico City, October 2026. Oral presentation.
- Canales, D.A. and Enríquez, M. "How Much Economic Dynamics Does a Business Register See? Auditing Mexico's DENUE, with an Application to the 2017 Puebla–Morelos Earthquake." UK Stata Conference, London, September 2026. Accepted.
- "Treaty Citizens and Immigrants: Intergenerational Mobility Among Mexican-Origin Populations in the American Southwest, 1850–1940." IPUMS Data-Intensive Research Conference, Minneapolis, July 2026. Poster.
- "Within-Person Drivers of BMI Change in Aging Mexico." International Congress on Obesity Research (IOR), Monterrey, 2026.
- Junior Research Seminar, Puebla, Mexico, October 2023.
- XI Congreso Internacional de Ciencia Política, Guadalajara, Mexico, October 2023.
- Coloquio Mexicano de Economía Matemática y Econometría, Guanajuato, Mexico, September 2023.

Awards and Scholarships

- Teaching in Excellence Award, Tecnológico de Monterrey, Campus Puebla, 2024
- Educational Innovation Award, Tecnológico de Monterrey, Campus Puebla, 2024
- Teaching in Excellence Award, University of Nottingham (2017/18, 2018/19, 2020/21)
- Graduate Teaching Fellowship, University of Nottingham, 2018
- CONACYT Doctoral and Master's Scholarship, Mexican Government (2012–2014, 2015–2019)

Skills & Qualifications

- Fellow of the Higher Education Academy (FHEA)
- Preparing to Teach in Higher Education Certificate
- Programming languages: R (Intermediate), Stata (Intermediate) and LaTeX (Advanced)
- Fluent in English and Spanish

Last updated: October 2026